

Allowing media conglomerates to own newspapers and tv stations in the same city is one way to destroy democracy by narrowing the people's sources of information and creating more media monopoly stranglehold of the news.

I am appalled that you have chosen these times of national disaster to implement such anti-democratic measures. Characterizing this move as patriotic is not only not true, but a malicious attempt to manufacture consent.